LETTER FROM PRINCIPAL DEESE

Aloha Alki Elementary Families,

As we have now hit the ground running, our school is fully living our theme for the year, "Always learning, always growing." Everyday, I see students and staff taking risks and embracing the idea that we are always in a state of learning from our mistakes, showing grit and perseverance, and doing it with love and respect for one another.

As we move into November, our character trait is Creativity & Curiosity. Seattle Public Schools is part of a city-wide initiative to establish equitable access to arts learning for every SPS student, through a plan called The Creative Advantage (https://www.seattleschools.org/academics/curriculum/arts/the\_creative\_advantage). Our school is a recent participant in this program and our school goal is to fully INTEGRATE the arts into our current school practices. We believe that the arts can enhance and enrich student learning and should be done in an integrated, multi-disciplinary way. For example, students might examine abstract art pieces after learning about geometric shapes or learn to express themselves through not only written word but other art media as well. We want our school to be bursting with creativity and want you to feel hugged by that creativity when you walk in the door. This year, our staff will be engaging in professional development and our Alki Arts Team will be working to continue to build the structures and supports needed in order to make our dream a reality.

We currently have one Alki parent serving on this Alki Arts Team but would love to have more voices at the table! If you would like to serve on this team, please reach out to me!

We look forward to seeing you all at parent-teacher conferences at the end of the month. A reminder that there is no school Nov 25th-29th. I will be holding office hours/principal coffee chat drop-in from 7:30-10:30am on Monday, November 25th. Come and chat with me!

Thank you for your continued support for our school,
With love and appreciation,
Rena Deese
Alki Elementary Principal

PRINCIPAL COFFEE CHAT

Monday, Nov. 25th (7:30 - 8:30 AM)

Drop-in for one-on-one/small group coffee chats with Principal Deese in her office.

Reminder: No school this day (Parents Teacher Conferences)

LETTER FROM PTA PRESIDENT TOM HARRIS

This past month, we had another successful community building event, I changed the name to Caffeine, Carbs and Chaos because it seemed like the perfect name for one of my favorite events. I'd like to thank our volunteers Mike U.B. and Mrs. Davina Dillely for helping with the prep and set up that made the event possible. This is an event that I love because it includes children. Even better, it includes children with chocolate frosting all over their noses.

As the Alki Vegas Auction continues to move inexorably towards us, the Auction Committee has been doing an amazing job organizing this event. Our community has once again shown it's spirit in the varying ways of involvement and contributions. I can't thank everyone enough for all of the work and high level of commitment. It is sure to be a night to remember for all who attend.

We will be posting a calendar for this year's movie nights, and thanks to my good friend Darryl at Glazer's Cameras, we have an amazing portable projection system that makes setting up for this event a snap.

This year our board has been talking a lot about school climate and family school partnerships with the School of Excellence Program we are participating in this year. I'd like to let our families know that this has been one of our best years in regards to disciplinary referrals to Principal Deese. Our staff has done an amazing job at working with our students, and the first few months of the school year have been phenomenal in regards to our children working together and creating a great environment for learning. Let's follow suit and show we value Alki's school climate by taking the School of Excellence Survey, we have recorded almost 70 responses so far. The survey is open until November 14, 2019, and can be taken at www.alkipta.com/soe.

FRIDAY MORNINGS: BREW AT THE BELL

Look for PTA President Tom Harris on the playground most Friday mornings and ask the tough questions, share your ideas, learn what is new, or just say hello and enjoy a cup of coffee!

HELP KEEP OUR COUNSELOR AT ALKI

Washington state does not provide funding for our half-time school counselor at Alki Elementary. Counselors are mandated by the state for middle school and high schools, but not elementary schools, which is why they go unfunded. Some elementary schools get them, but not all, and not Alki.

Our school community values this counselor support so deeply that we have rallied to raise the money ourselves rather than lose it. Here's what our counselor does at Alki, why it's important, and how you can help protect this resource for all students at Alki and access services for your child.

Because our counselor at Alki is not funded by the state or district, Alki Elementary PTA has been raising the money the last few years - it's that important to our community.

WHO IS OUR SCHOOL COUNSELOR?

You may not know our school counselor Jen Greenstein (yet), but your child does. In 2 ½ school days a week, she makes herself known to the students as a helper and an extra person they can go to. She introduces herself to students, looks out for them on the playground and greets them by name in the halls. She observes inside the classroom, trains groups as peer mentors, helps our kids manage conflict and complicated feelings and social situations, and gives students and our community the tools to navigate an ever-complicated world. Ms. Greenstein has been a steady presence at Alki since 2014. Her office is inside the library, and she's here Mondays, Thursdays and every other Wednesday.

WHY WE NEED IT

Counseling services impact every student at Alki Elementary, whether directly or indirectly. Social-emotional learning is a vital part of learning, particularly at the elementary level. Our counselor supports students schoolwide teaching about behavior, which helps the entire school run smoothly. Last month, Ms. Greenstein taught "I statements" to the whole school at assembly, as a way to communicate respectfully and ask for what you need - "I feel ... [sad] When ... [I hear mean words] Because ... [they hurt my feelings]. I Want ... [to play with people who use kind words]." This early conflict resolution prevents problems before they start, and helps the entire community (grown-ups, too!) live the Alki way.

You may not know our school counselor Jen Greenstein (yet), but your child does.

Working with school stakeholders on systems that encourage positive behavior, and support our goals of safety and belonging for all, is the first of three tiers of support our counselor provides at school. She also helps students in the classroom and in small groups gain tools to work through conflict, manage emotions, respect boundaries, communicate effectively and act as their best selves. Most counselor support at Alki happens on these first two tiers and is a collaborative effort to identify needs and solutions.

Tier 3 is crisis support, with personalized plans for individual students. On-site counselor support is vital to support students and families in crisis, help students who are experiencing homelessness to stay at Alki, and ensure access to resources addressing housing instability, food insecurity and hunger, domestic and family violence and other urgent issues. Ms. Greenstein can connect families with resources and collaborate with district personnel to give every child the foundation to succeed in school.

"My job is to help keep you safe."

Wherever a student is on this spectrum, our counselor is there for them. Ms. Greenstein says, "I see my job a lot in terms of safety. This is how I talk to kids: 'My job is to help keep you safe. I am working together with all the adults at the school and your families to make sure you are safe at school and having the best experience possible at Alki. You don't have to worry; we're working behind the scenes together." This level of security for all our children deserves our support.

HOW YOU CAN HELP

Because our counselor at Alki is not funded by the state or district, Alki Elementary PTA has been raising the money the last few years - it's that important to our community. Help keep this important resource available for our school:

- Go to the Alki PTA Auction on Nov. 16th! The money raised will go to support our counselor position and other vital support staff positions.
- Make a direct donation anytime at alkipta.com/direct-give.
- Attend a School Board meeting to voice your support of mandated school counselors for elementary schools (find more info at seattleschools.org/district/school\_board/public\_testimony).
- Contact your elected officials (find yours at app.leg.wa.gov/districtfinder) to advocate for central funding of elementary school counselors.

HOW YOU CAN ACCESS HELP

- Contact your child's teacher as a first step.
- Email counselor Jen Greenstein at Jgreenstein@seattleschools.org.
- Learn the RULER tools and use them at home: alkies.seattleschools.org/academics/ruler\_overview.

Everyone is welcome to attend, children too! For a complete schedule of meetings, visit alkipta.com/general-pta-meetings-2019-2020

SCHOOL OF EXCELLENCE

Since meeting in the beginning of October we have doubled the amount of completed surveys.. as of October 27, 2019, a total of 70 surveys have been completed! If you would like to see the survey results, you can view results by clicking the link at alkipta.com/SOE. To all that participated, thank you so much, your answers will steer the direction of our work this year.

If you would like to have a seat at the table with Alki families, teachers and staff, and PTA board members to collaborate and work together as we strengthen our engagement strategies, please consider joining our steering committee. You can join online by visiting our Sign Up, or you can email secretary@alkipta.com for more information.

In an effort to encourage participation, time will be allotted for break out sessions during our monthly membership meetings. We hope this will lessen the stress for committee members by eliminating the need to schedule multiple meetings to participate. Anyone in attendance is encouraged and welcomed to join these breakout sessions, whether or not they have signed up to serve as official members of the committee.

If you haven't taken the survey, there is still time! We will close the survey on November 14, 2019, at midnight. At that time a total tally of survey answers will be forwarded with our final application to the National PTA School of Excellence Program. Leading experts on family engagement will review Alki's survey results and draft Alki's personalized Roadmap to Excellence. We will refer to this document often as we make moves this year to improve our family/school partnerships and Alki's school climate.

You can support all children, families, and teachers by taking the survey, or joining the steering committee. If you need accommodations to participate or have questions about the work being performed, please feel free to call Melissa Spiker at (206) 209-9182 or email me at secretary@alkipta.com.

Did you know that Washington State PTA is the largest child advocacy organization in the state? The mission of PTA revolves around advocacy, and this last weekend members from all over the state attended the WSPTA Legislative Assembly in Bellevue to vote on a wide variety of topics, including "Equitable Identification of Highly Capable Students," "Gun Violence Prevention and Safety," "PTA Mission-Focused Fundraising," "Rights and Services for Undocumented Children and Youth," and "Arts in Education." You can find the WSPTA list of resolutions here: <https://www.wastatepta.org/focus-areas/advocacy/resolutions/>. These can be incredibly helpful when advocating for a myriad of topics within our own community, at a school board meeting, or even in Olympia.

PTA members have successfully advocated for safer crosswalks, equity in education, and most recently the National PTA president Leslie Boggs testified on behalf of children and families before the US House of Representatives Gun Violence Prevention Task Force. PTA gives us the tools and resources to ensure our membership is aware of the issues and can effectively become a powerful voice and advocate for all children.

Thank you to Alki Parent, Lindsay Yost, for submitting (and passed!) a Resolution on Arts In Education during the Legislative Assembly!
