LETTER FROM PRINCIPAL DEESE

Aloha Alki Community,

Our character trait for this month is Respect. When I think about the word, Respect, I hear my 5th grade teacher (in addition to Aretha Franklin singing R-E-S-P-E-C-T) reminding our class about "The Golden Rule. Treat others how you would like to be treated." It has been repeated so often that I sometimes forget to stop and think about how I am following this infamous "Golden Rule." Am I treating others the way I would want them to treat me? When I fail, how am I working to repair the damage I might have caused? How can I do better? Throughout this month, I will be paying extra attention to my own actions and hope you will join me! The Golden Rule was true when I was a kid and is just as true today!

AROUND THE SCHOOL

Staff Spotlight - Second Grade Team

The amazing second grade teaching team is composed of Ms. Tracy Seefeld, Mrs. Laurie Rasmussen, Ms. Jennifer Rosholt, and Ms. Marjorie Nye. These four teachers have a plethora of experience in education, and are full of incredible ideas to engage all students across the grade level! "Ms. Seefeld, Ms. Rosholt, Mrs. Rasmussen, and Ms. Nye have a wide range of strengths- social skills, math, science, literacy, and art- that make them a collective powerhouse!" said an Alki parent who has been lucky enough to have children in every one of the team's classrooms over the years! Alki's community just wouldn't be the same without them!

Alki Elementary School Spelling Bee

We are excited to announce the dates for Alki Elementary's Fifth Annual Spelling Bee. Our bees this year will be held on the following days during school hours:

Grade Level Bees: February 7, 2020

All School Spelling Bee: February 12, 2020

We encourage your child or children (grades 2-5) to participate in this fun and exciting program. It is a great opportunity for each student to improve their spelling while having fun! Lost your Permission Slip? Print one at alkiptacom/forms.

Food Drive

February is a month where we celebrate love. Please share the love with the West Seattle Food Bank by sending in nonperishable food, especially snack size and easily prepared foods, and placing them in the WSFB bin located in the hallway near the office. If you would like to have food directly shipped to Alki for the Food Drive, you may use the following link tinyurl.com/AlkiFoodbankWishlist.

Donate School Supplies

Alki is running low on school supplies! You can help! Shop your favorite store or order online at bit.ly/AlkiWishlist2020. Here is the wishlist: #2 pencils, wide-ruled loose leaf paper, white copy paper reams, baby wipes, hand sanitizer, black dry erase markers, black felt pens, colored markers, and zip locks bags (all sizes).

Salmon Tank

Fifth grade teacher, Mr. Harijan, and Instructional Aid, Mr. Tad, set up the salmon tank in the hallway. All students are able to watch the eggs grow and change until the fifth graders take a field trip this spring to release them into Fauntleroy Creek. Big thanks to these two staff members for taking this extra work on for all to learn about and enjoy!

Around The School

Black Lives Matter at School

Black Lives Matter at School Week is Feb 3-7th (see our district website for more details about the adopted resolution). At Alki Elementary, alongside Seattle Public Schools, we believe that we must disrupt the legacies of racism and create a more just and loving society. You will see staff wearing BLM shirts on Friday, Feb 7th.

In classrooms, students will be discussing issues of inclusion through lessons and read alouds throughout the school year- not just during a particular week and month (for specifics about what is being taught- contact your child's teacher). We will celebrate with a Black History Month Celebration Assembly on Feb 27th at 8am, we would love for you to join us! -Principal Deese

Seattle School Board Adopts the Annual Black Lives Matter at School Week Resolution

At the regular board meeting on Wednesday, January 22, 2020, the Seattle School Board unanimously adopted Resolution No. 2019/20-23 to declare that the lives of Black students matter and to encourage districtwide participation in the national Black Lives Matter at School Week movement from February 3 - 7, 2020. This annual resolution affirms the Seattle School Board's commitment to racial justice and recognition that the lives and lived experiences of our Black youth matter, not just during Black History Month, but every single day.

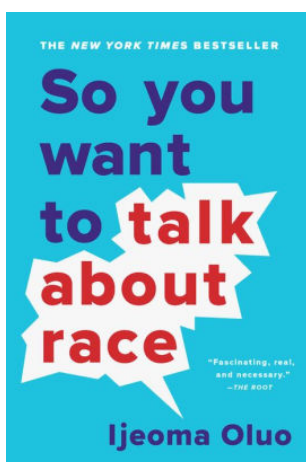

Throughout our nation's history, systems of oppression and injustice have led to deepening racial disparities and racism across all sectors of society and have lasting negative consequences for our communities, cities, and nation. The Board also recognizes that the killing of unarmed Black men and women, including queer and transgender persons of color, has left young people and our communities searching for answers to incredibly complicated issues of race, justice, and fairness.

Public education systems and educators have an important role to play in disrupting legacies of racism. Declaring "Black Lives Matter at School" affirms our commitment to all of our students and elevates Black students' stories, strengths, and struggles - publicly demonstrating our intentional work to create a more just and loving society.

This is the third consecutive year that the Seattle School Board has declared that the lives of Black students matter and encouraged districtwide participation in the national Black Lives Matter at School Week movement. This week is recognized nationwide as an opportunity to promote racial justice and identity safety in classrooms, and Seattle Public Schools is proud to be a part of this important work made possible by our educators and the Seattle Education Association. The SPS Ethnic Studies Advisory Group, with support from SEA's Center for Racial Equity, has been working tirelessly to prepare resources, lessons, and supports to celebrate and affirm the lives of our students.

ALKI BOOK CLUB

Meeting Date: Wednesday, February 26th 6:30 - 7:30 PM

We are starting a book club for adults at Alki! This book club will read books to educate themselves on issues of race and equity, in an effort to build a community and world for our children that is equitable for all.

Book: "So You Want to Talk About Race" by Ijeoma Oluo

This book club is open to everyone! If you are an avid reader who pours through a book in a day or only have time to squeeze in a few chapters, you are welcome to be a part of this conversation! This book club will have norms and a discussion guide created by the author to help guide thoughtful questions and commentary that makes everyone feel included. What if you can't make the group conversation date or time? No problem, please read the book, talk about it with others at home, on the playground, or add your thoughts to the online discussion board (this will be the chapter by chapter discussion guide).

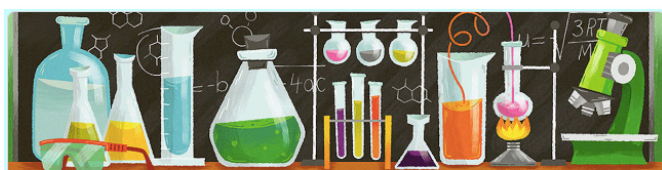

Get the book: You may purchase the book, check it out from the public library, or borrow one of the copies donated by Alki PTA by contacting Mrs. Dilley at dmdilley@seattleschools.org.

SCHOOL OF EXCELLENCE

Parent Empowerment: Common Core Standards

Alki PTA's Secretary and School of Excellence Chair, Mel Spiker, is hosting a neighborhood discussion about the common core standards in the Upper Admiral District that will also be broadcasted online (please email if you would like to host Alki families in your neighborhood, secretary@alkipta.com).

Our School of Excellence survey identified this as an important issue parents would like to learn more about. We also had a survey asking which item the community wanted to address next, the results are illustrated below.

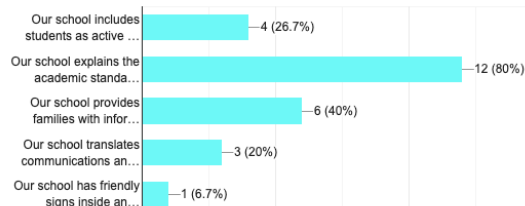

Top 5 Survey Questions w/ highest number of respondents answering 'Never'.

15 responses

Which area do you think our community should address as a top priority?

15 responses

During the session we'll be walking through what Common Core Standards mean for you and your child through a house party or community discussion format. Guided activities and discussions will revolve around the following:

- Quick history of the common core
- Benefits of the common core
- Helping your child at home
- Development of the Common Core
- Grade specific resources

We will also view a short video and learn how to make the most of parent teacher conferences by asking core-specific questions that will help facilitate discussions about your child's current academic performance.

This presentation and training to facilitate a session was created by the Get to the Core campaign. Get to the Core's mission is to equip parents with the knowledge they need to support their children. (<http://www.get2core.org>)

What is Process Art?

Supporting Access to the Arts | School of Excellence

Process Art is art that is child-directed, choice-driven, and celebrates the experience of discovery. In process art, the final product is always unique and the focus lies in the creation of the work, not the outcome. There are so many benefits to process art! Process art is developmentally appropriate for young children because it meets them where they are as sensory explorers.

Through process art, children...

- will think creatively, independently, and imaginatively
- will learn about the physical limitations and possibilities of materials.
- will gain confidence to realize their own ideas.
- will embrace experimentation and mistakes as part of the learning process.

Why do adults love process art?

Parents usually find process art easier to do than product-focussed art projects. Process-focussed projects don't require a lot of fancy set up or unique materials that are hard to come by. This saves both time and money. The goal of process art is to explore and discover, rather than achieve perfection. Adults are emotionally free to support whatever the child dreams up as an ideal solution or end result. No fighting, tears, or half-completed projects.

For elementary aged process-focussed art ideas, visit www.projectsforkids.com.

Be Internet Awesome Family Workshop

Thursday, February 13, 2020 (5:30 - 7:30 PM)

Is your child ready for a Smartphone? It's a difficult decision. How the decision is made also sets the tone with our kids as we start to develop our family's online digital citizenship. Alki families can play a part in keeping our community safe online, but your family's digital citizenship is unique and based on personal values and beliefs. It is important for our children to participate and contribute to discussions about our digital world.

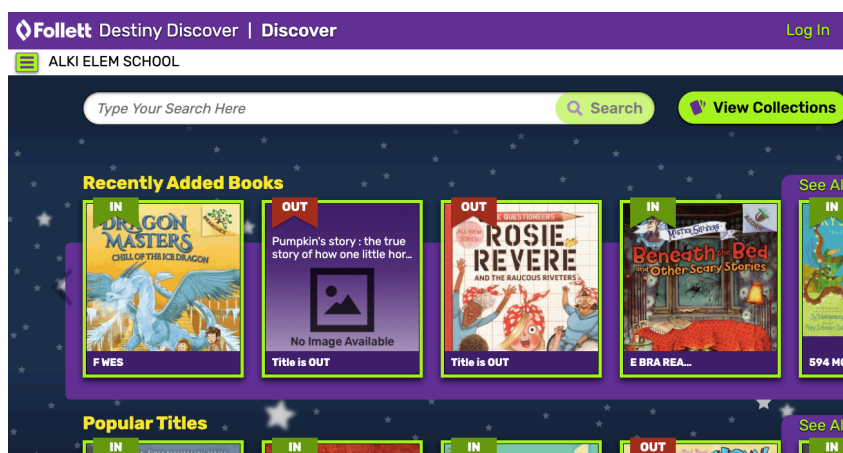

There is no magic unique age when all kids are ready for a device of their own... here are a few things to keep in mind:

- Start by asking your kids why they think phones are important (try to get beyond answers like "because everyone has one").
- Talk about your expectations, it's valuable to discuss them even if they aren't ready for a Smartphone of their own.
- Discuss how they would use their phone if and when they receive one and think of ways those things can be done without using a phone.

We hope you'll attend Alki's Be Internet Awesome Family Workshop on February 13, 2020, at 5:30 PM in the cafeteria. Everyone that attends can enjoy dinner and will receive a door prize. We will have a raffle for a chance to win donated items from Relay and Google. Look for event flyers coming in Kid Mail, and please email Melissa Spiker at secretary@alkipta.com, if you have questions or to work on removing barriers to attending. Please visit <http://bit.ly/InternetAwesomeAlki> to RSVP, or return the event flyer to your student's teacher.

Learn more at g.co/BeInternetAwesome. Find videos, games, tools and so much more!

Destiny Discover - Online Library Catalog

Did you know Alki's library is cataloged online?

Our library can be browsed via Destiny Discover's website (<https://search.follettsoftware.com/metasearch/ui/111431>). This service allows parents to view book covers, check a book's availability, browse scrolling carousels of bookshelves, mouse over titles for more information, and drag and drop titles to look at later. If you find a book you know your student would love you can request the title(s) and they will be ready for them to pick up at the school.

Special collections have been curated by Mrs. Iba which can be viewed when you click the green View Collections button in the upper right hand corner. These collections cover a number of themes and units of study. The collections are populated with books, articles, songs, videos etc on each subject/theme. Check back often, Mrs. Iba continues to add new collections. If you have questions about this or other Library services at Alki, please email Mrs. Laurie Iba at liba@seattleschools.org.

2020 AUCTION Q&A - Looking for the next Auction Chair(s)!

Go for the Gold in 2020!

In the Olympic spirit of team work, this is your chance to take home the title of Fan Favorite! Alki is looking for someone to step up as Chair of the 2020 Alki Elementary Auction. No experience necessary. After a year of building great Alki spirit and over $152,000 in donations, we would love to pass the baton and cheer you on to ensure that Team Alki comes home winners.

Without an auction, Alki would be in jeopardy of losing the wonderful programs and critical support roles that make Alki such a special place.

Not sure what the auction roles entail? Join us for an informal auction Q&A on Friday, February 7 at 8:30 AM at Ampersand Cafe on Alki. Meet last year's committee and learn the keys to success. Got ideas? This is your chance to share them. Let's take this year's event to new heights. RSVP at auktion@alkipta.com. Thank you Shelly Kutz and Mark Turpen for organizing this Q&A opportunity!

Volunteer Swap!

Big thanks to the Genesee Hill Elementary and Fairmount Park Elementary parents who volunteered at our Alki Auction last November! Let's return the favor and volunteer at their auctions this month!

A Note from the Nominating Committee

Helloooooooooo Alki!

The PTA Nominating Committee is beginning a search for next year's PTA Board! We have several positions to fill, and it's time to start grabbing coffees after drop-off and learning how you might want to help.

So far it looks like next year we're going to need a new President, Vice President, Treasurer, and Secretary! Phew! Seriously, it's time to start having these discussions.

We have other positions available as well. Volunteer Coordinator. Events Chair. Membership Chair. We even have a Board Member at Large position for someone who'd like a seat on the Board, finding ways to help out however you can.

The next chapter of Alki
PTA is in your hands

Join the Board & Make a Difference

You. The one reading this. Right now. Yes, you. Are you kinda wondering if you might take one of these critical roles? The first thing to keep in mind is that this is your community. This is your school. And you may very well be who we need to make it so much better.

The Nominating Committee is made up of Laetitia Rettori and myself, Mike Uehara-Bingen. Please don't hesitate to reach out if you are interested in a role on the PTA Board. We can grab a coffee, talk about how you'd like to contribute, and take it from there!

THANK YOU WITH ALL OF OUR

Thank you to everyone for making Astronaut Dr. Soyeon Yi feel so welcomed by Alki. She very much enjoyed her time! This history making astronaut captivated the students, parents and staff at a special assembly as she talked about what it is like in space and was able to visit with several classes.

Special thanks to the Kutrz family for making all of this possible, to the Pan and Turpen Families for bidding at the Alki Auction on this once-in-a-lifetime experience, and to Courtney Teitler, Andrea Taylor, and Ali Pankop for making signs, decorations and bulletin board display to make Dr. Soyeon Yi feel so at home.

Thank you to Lindsay Yost, Alki PTA Reflections Chair, for organizing such a lovely Recognition Ceremony for all of this year's participants. She works so hard to make every single participant feel honored and special. Seeing children conceive and execute art on their own and being recognized for the uniqueness and beauty of it is truly moving. Lindsay has had a positive impact on a lot of children's lives.

Congrats to all of the 2019/2020 Reflections Art Program Participants:
