

Hey Alki!

You're doing so good, Alki-a-thoning through your neighborhood!

You totally ROCK, and I have planned a special week for you

Take out your maps and work together to help figure out these clues:

1. A park near a point where the sidewalk maps out the stars

Listen to the waves and watch the ships sail in, or on a clear night find Mars!

CLUE #1

THIS PLACE IS: _____

2. The next place where you can stake your claim

Is on a road that changes names

Up a hill from Beach Drive

You'll intersect at four pennies + four dimes + a nickel (which is worth 5)!

CLUE #2

THIS PLACE IS: _____ & _____

3. Speaking of adding, the name of this road begins the same

Do you know which road I am trying to name?

Here it intersects with another street

This one rhymes with a 4-syllable name for a lizard-like amphibian who doesn't care for heat!

CLUE #3

THIS PLACE IS: _____ & _____

4. This long stretch is usually packed with people

During summertime you can find many of my friends, the hungry seagulls

Enjoy a bonfire at night, Build a sandcastle during the day

With some treats from little shops along the way!

CLUE #4

THIS PLACE IS: _____

5. Last but not least, is the reason we are all connected

Around the grounds where I have nested

We will be here soon, together anew

When you walk by, look in the window for me and wear your Alki blue!!

CLUE #5

THIS PLACE IS: _____

Now hurry out, rain or shine. Find those treasures that once were mine.

Keep them close, and share with friends. Remember that living life The Alki Way never ends.

Good luck, Seagulls!

With love,
Seymour
